City Is Casting Light Vote

The FARMERS' CORNER
by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

As every farmer knows, American export markets, in days gone by, were a vital factor in agricultural economy.

California, particularly, sold its farm products in the four-corners of the world. California prunes and other dried fruits found a ready market in Germany. California oranges were on sale in Liverpool, London and Manchester. California rice even traveled to the Orient.

California labels were known in every port and every major market in the civilized world.

Facing facts fearlessly, that market for California produce has all but evaporated. Except, perhaps, for the Americas, export trade, due to force of circumstances, is gone beyond recall, at least for several years.

When Europe gets through with war and bloodshed, there may, possibly, be some demand for American goods, for Europe, most certainly, will be faced with the worst food shortage in its history. But unless the United States lends it the gold to buy American produce, or unless American farmers are willing to barter, Europe will be a consumer virtually bereft of purchasing power.

Why not face facts?

American agriculture, during the years just ahead, must look to America for its markets!

In light of those facts—and they are facts—California farmers would do well to give serious thought to a recent appraisal of the situation made by Milo Perkins, president of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation.

Mr. Perkins is quoted by W. B. Parker, director of the State Department of Agriculture, as saying, in effect:

That under-consumption in the United States is a real challenge because the greatest untapped market that ever existed looms before our farmers and business men in the form of under-privileged people in our own country, whose present cash incomes are so low that they can't buy our products.

That 16 or 17 million persons are in families that earn $500 a year or less. And that such a family spends only 38 per cent of its income for food—buys only 38 per cent as much fruit as those in the $100-a-month income class, and only 10 per cent as much as those earning $250 a month.

That in the case of meats families in the $500-a-year income group buy only one-half as much as those in the $100-a-month income group.

That in the case of vegetables, they buy only 46 per cent as much as the $100-a-month grouping, and in dairying products, only 42 per cent as much.

That approximately 20 million persons receiving public assistance spent only $1 a week per capita for food, or 5 cents a meal.

Incidentally, Mr. Perkins states that since the Food Stamp Plan was inaugurated, the 5-cent-a-meal expenditure has increased to 7½ cents—and when a man gets off relief and obtains a job, even at very modest wages, he spends 12 cents a meal for food.

What does that array of facts mean?

To this writer, it means that this country must learn to rely on itself first. With so many leading authorities in agreement that America cannot depend upon foreign trade as a means of maintaining its economy, at least for some years to come, it becomes increasingly apparent that we must look primarily to the stabilization of our American markets for our American producers. It means that we must restore American prosperity by rebuilding our own markets first for our own people, so as to be prepared for still further dislocation of our foreign trade. It means that American business must not be condemned without just cause, whether such business be big or little, and that government instead of trying to crucify and stultify business and industry should devote its energies

3 BURGLARIES REPORTED ON TUESDAY

Camino Lumber Firm, Placerville Grocery, R. R. Station Entered

Law enforcement officials received reports Tuesday morning of three burglaries committed sometime Monday night, two of which were in Placerville and the third at Camino.

Sheriff George M. Smith was investigating a burglary at the tool house of the Michigan-California Lumber Company, where tools valued at about $325 were taken including a 125-pound tool kit belonging to Lloyd Matlock, electrician.

The thieves, there was evidence that at least two participated in the burglary, gained entrance to one part of the tool house and obtained a hack saw which they used to saw the lock so they could get at the tools.

The door to the railroad station office, nearby, had been pried open but there was no evidence that anything was taken, it was reported.

Tracks in the dust indicated that the thieves used a car in their getaway.

In Placerville, Raley's Market was entered and $59.10 was taken from two cash registers, $10 being in one. Entrance was gained by boring sufficient holes in the rear wall of the structure with a brace and bit to so weaken the section of the wall that it could be smashed in, affording a hole large enough for a man to enter.

The third in the burglary series was at the Southern Pacific station where the warehouse was entered and a box of shells, shotgun shells it was said, and an electric motor belonging to the Orelli Electric Company, were taken.

The Camino burglary was reported by the sheriff and the Placerville burglaries were reported by the city police. It did not appear in either of the three instances of theft that an approximate hour of committing the thefts had been determined. All burglaries were discovered shortly before the start of the business day and had been committed during the night.

One hundred forty-three thousand, four hundred fifty-nine California citizens received old age security aid during July, 1940, according to figures released today by the state department of social welfare. The total expenditure of $5,445,639 meant an average payment of $37.96 to each recipient.

The 455 recipients in El Dorado county received a total of $17,706.

At the same time, the department stated that the aid to needy children program supported 42,213 California children, including 85 from this county. Expenditures in this county totaled $1,383.26 with the state-wide aggregate being $809,780.

Martha A. Chickering, director of the state department, also announced that 7,202 needy blind persons were paid an average of $48. for July.

El Dorado county's total blind aid grants of $460 went to 11 recipients. The aged, blind and child aid programs are all state-wide in scope, but are administered by the local county board of supervisors, acting through their county welfare department.

"THE LITTLE HORN" TO BE TOPIC FOR ADDRESS ON SUNDAY EVENING

At the close of Daniel's great book of prophecy he declared, "I heard but I understood not." Then the angel Gabriel explained, "The words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand." (Daniel 12:8-10).

With this as his opening text, Evangelist H. C. Olmstead made clear the meaning of the 7th chapter of Daniel to his audience at the Shakespeare Clubhouse last Sunday night. Using a large map and charts of strange beasts as visual aids he traced history down through Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece and Rome.

Then following the nations of western Europe which had their beginnings in the break-up of the Roman Empire, it was demonstrated that "The kingdom and dominion . . . under the whole heaven shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom." An appeal was made for all to now register as citizens of that everlasting kingdom of glory.

Next Sunday night his subject will be, "The Little Horn,"—that marvelous symbol mentioned in Daniel 7, verse 8.

Treasure Island Short Wave Station Will Broadcast International Program Sunday To Welcome Pilgrims To General Convention

SAN FRANCISCO.—Acclaimed a spectacular pre-convention event, California chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star have arranged an international short-wave radio broadcast of welcome to members of the order in other lands who soon will be on their way to join the thousands assembling for the international Eastern Star convention in San Francisco next month, September 13 to 18.

The broadcast is scheduled for Sunday, September 1, at 9 p. m. over KGEI, General Electric's powerful international short-wave station on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, it was announced by Waldo F. Postel, general chairman of the California committee.

The pre-convention program will be heard from Alaska to Mexico, and over the Pacific by ships at sea, Hawaii, the Philippines and the Orient, all points where Eastern Star members will be listening.

Throughout California and the West, more than 1000 Eastern Star Chapters are arranging special "listening" parties to hear the fraternal message being sent to other lands. In the San Francisco Bay region, Eastern Star parties are being planned to visit Treasure Island and witness the broadcast at the KGEI glass-enclosed studio in the Golden Gate International Exposition's Palace of Electricity. Many are expected to be guests at dinners at the Treasure Island Women's Club preceding the broadcast.

Featured on the international short-wave program will be Mrs. D. E. F. Easton, California clubwoman who will become on the final day of the Eastern Star convention most worthy grand matron and head of the world-wide order. Mrs. Easton will be introduced by Edward C. Counter, general chairman of the General Grand Chapter committee which is cooperating with the California committee in preparing for the big convention.

John Lewis McDonald of San Jose, worthy grand organizer, is named to accompany Mrs. Leda Gregory Jackson, also of San Jose, in a musical number of his own composition.

Strictly a non-commercial station, KGEI offered its facilities to the California Eastern Star committee because of the international significance of the approaching convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Baer and daughter, Helen, who have been spending several weeks at the family home at Bijou, returned to Placerville Monday evening.

SOIL SURVEY UNDER WAY

District Directors To Meet For Organization Purposes On Sept. 3rd

In connection with the recent establishment of the Central El Dorado Soil Conservation District, technicians are conducting a soil survey of the entire district, it was learned Tuesday.

At the same time, officials revealed that the directors elected at the special election in July, at which time the proposal to establish the district was approved, will meet on September 3 at the courthouse for purposes of organization.

The directors are J. C. Rasmussen, Roy Marks, W. J. Clark and Leo Ench.

The soil survey is being carried on by Herbert Hopper and Eldred Bliss, of Berkeley, assisted by local members of the Soil Conservation Service staff and embraces the 31,000 acres within the Central El Dorado Soil Conservation District. The survey should be completed within the next ninety days, according to Glenn E. Paxton of the Soil Conservation Service.

Portions of this survey have been made from time to time by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service during the past five years. Immediately following the establishment of the soil conservation district the service took steps to complete the survey as soon as possible as this survey provides the basis for the district work plan which is set up by the board of directors of the district. Such information as types of soil, percentages of slope, amount of soil removed by erosion and crops grown are recorded on previously prepared aerial maps.

NEWSPAPER CAMPAIGN YIELDS QUICK SALES

A special advertising campaign running exclusively in the newspapers is bringing spectacular increases in the sales of Acme Beer in cans, according to Karl F. Schuster, president of the Acme Brewery.

He reports a 31.9 per cent sales increase for Acme Beer in cans in June and July over the corresponding months of last year, for the state of California.

These results are for the first two months of a novel June-through-September advertising contest being run by the Pacific Can Company to promote use of their new "Marvel-Lined" beer can, now used exclusively by Acme.

The campaign, running solely in California newspapers, is handled by the Leon Livingston Advertising Agency.

Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith left Tuesday morning to spend several days on the Caldor Ranger district.

Mrs. Lila Smith and Mrs. Ruby Allen were at Sacramento Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin are here from Nevada for a visit with relatives and other friends.

AVERAGE IN 3 PRECINCTS 25 PCT.

Legislative Contests Among Major Issues In State-Wide Vote

A check of three Placerville precincts this afternoon showed an average of about a 25 per cent vote recorded in the Primary Election up to 2 o'clock.

While there were hopes that the later afternoon might result in a surge of voting, election officials appeared to agree that the total vote will be light in comparison with the registration.

At the city hall, with more than 300 registered, only 74 votes had been recorded. At the chamber of commerce office, with 312 registered, only 74 votes had been recorded and at the irrigation district office, with more than 300 registered, only 84 votes had been recorded.

Local election boards pointed out that the per centage of vote might be heavier in the Second and Third districts of the county, where there are Supervisorial contests. Supervisor P. J. Hall, in the First district, is unopposed for re-election.

FRENCH STYLE APPLE PIE

You're all familiar with the customary two crust apple pie—and you've undoubtedly enjoyed deep dish apple pies which have no bottom crusts at all. But have you ever tasted an open-top apple pie where the one and only crust is on the bottom? This is not as commonly served as the other two. Nevertheless it is equally delicious. In place of the usual top crust there's a rich crumb mixture, tasting of butter and brown sugar, baked right over the apple filling. This is the French notion of an apple pie... and it is a thoroughly enjoyable one when it's served with a swirl of whipped cream.

FRENCH APPLE PIE

Pastry for 9-inch pie shell 2 tsp. flour
6 to 8 tart juicy apples 2 tsp. butter
1/2 cup sugar (depending on 1/2 cup butter the sweetness of the apples) 1/2 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon (or nutmeg) 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour

Line a deep 9-inch pie pan with plain pastry, and chill while preparing the apples.

Pare and core the apples and slice them thin. Mix together the sugar, cinnamon (or nutmeg) and the 2 tsp. of flour. Mix with the apples and place in the pastry-lined pan. If the apples do not happen to be very juicy, sprinkle a bit of water over them. Dot with the 2 tsp. butter.

Now cream together the 1/2 cup soft butter and the brown sugar. Work the cup of sifted flour into the creamed butter and brown sugar... using a pastry blender or a spoon... to make a crumb mixture. Sprinkle this over the top of the apples, and bake for 35 to 40 minutes... using a hot oven, 450° F., for the first 15 minutes... then reducing the heat to 350° F., moderate oven to finish baking.

PASTRY FOR ONE CRUST PIE

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 cup shortening
1/2 tsp. salt Ice water (2 to 3 tsp.)

Sift the flour and salt together. Add most of the shortening to the flour, cutting it in with a pastry blender or 2 knives until the mixture looks like meal. Then add the remaining shortening... cutting it in particles the size of giant peas. Sprinkle water lightly over the mixture... blending it in until the dough can be just pressed together into a ball.

Roll out to fit the pie pan on a lightly-floured, cloth-covered board. Place loosely in an 8 or 9-inch pie pan... leaving 1/2 inch extending over the edge of the pan. Build up a fluted edge. Chill thoroughly.

Love Shy

by Nelly Graf
(AUTHOR OF "GIRLS WITHOUT MEN")

Marianne Minear lives on the wrong side of the little town of Centerville. She begins to realize this poignantly when Monte Thurston, who has gone with her all through high school, deserts her for the well-to-do and socially secure Sabra Anderson. Then, Marianne's sister Eve, desperate to get away from Centerville because, she says, a girl without money hasn't a chance there, runs away with her employer, a married man. Marianne is snubbed on all sides. Embittered by all this, she becomes convinced that money is everything, and vows that, some day, she will have it. She takes a job as a bookkeeper in a plumbing shop. Meanwhile, she has met Leonard Bailey, a young real estate man who has been reduced to taking a job as a ditch-digger. He takes her on a Sunday picnic and makes love to her but, though she likes him, she remains cold. Love had been cruel. All she cares about now is money—and Leonard is poor.

CHAPTER VII

LEONARD did not try to make another date with Marianne after that Sunday picnic, but he came over to the shop frequently. He and Hickey had become friends, and together, they were helping Marianne to a better knowledge of the plumbing business. They pointed out that she could study catalogs from the plumbing manufacturers in her spare time, and learn the names of all the different fixtures and supplies.

"It's much better than moping around," Hickey said. "And I don't have to tell you that your work could stand improvement."

It was surprising how quickly Marianne learned what she once made up her mind to do so. After a few weeks of hard application, she asked Hickey a bit timidly if he didn't think she was doing better.

"Oh, it's in you, kid, to learn fast," he answered contemplatively. "If I'm any guesser you're going to get whatever you go after."

Marianne was immeasurably cheered.

IT WAS in the middle of August that Buck Murphy noticed "I never saw a greenie pick things up so quickly. Beginning next week, you get a raise."

Marianne was elated. She needed the extra money, but the more important thing was that she had definitely accomplished something. According to Leonard and Hickey, this was the first real step in realizing an ambition.

When Murphy left the shop, Marianne quickly telephoned to Selman's to tell Leonard about the raise.

"Bail?" answered a man's voice in response to her request to speak to Leonard. "He doesn't work here any more."

Marianne was surprised and a little hurt. Surely he wouldn't have left town without telling her goodbye.

HER THOUGHTS were interrupted as the shop door opened. Monte! She had thought he was still away on his summer vacation.

"Why, hello, Monte." Her voice shook a little. "When did you get back? Have a nice vacation?" "Oh, no. Can't say I'm crazy about a dude ranch. Pretty dull. How's things?"

"Fine. I've just got a raise." "That so?" Monte answered without interest. "How about a date tonight?"

"I'm not busy, but I thought—" "Okay," he interposed. "I'll call around nine. I'll honk. You be listening."

He hurried out just as Hickey came in. "Huh," Hickey commented, "since when have the Thurstons been patronizing Murphy's?"

"He came to see me," Marianne told him. "Yeah?" Hickey did not look at her. "If I were you, I don't think I'd have Monte Thurston calling on me."

"I'd like to know why not, Marianne flared. Hickey went into the supply room.

"I think you know, he finally called. Marianne did know. Monte's words: "I'll honk; you be listening." Secret dates! He didn't want anyone to know he was with her. Her face burned.

SHE WENT to the doorway of the supply room.

"Did you know Leonard Bailey had quit at Selman's?" she asked Hickey.

"Sure. I knew it. I hired him for this place. That boy is first rate."

"You hired him—you mean he is going to work here?" Marianne could not conceal her pleasure.

"Yes; starting in the morning." The whole day, Marianne reflected, as she walked homeward after work, had been good. The raise, Monte coming, Leonard going to work at Murphy's.

Something of her happy care-free days came back. Memories—Monte saying, "No one has golden brown eyes and hair like yours. You're the prettiest girl in the whole world."

SHE WAS waiting, her heart beating unnaturally fast, when Monte honked at nine. She raced out to the car and climbed in.

They drove to a secluded spot a short distance out of town. Then Monte parked, and slipped his arm around Marianne.

"Have you missed me, honey?" Surprisingly, it occurred to Marianne that she hadn't missed him. She'd been too busy.

"I came home a week early because I wanted to see you," he went on. "I'm leaving for college the first of September. I missed you a lot. Too darned much. You're still my girl, aren't you, Marianne?"

"Of course, And I've missed you, but..." "Know why I came home this early?" he interrupted. "Because you and I are going to get married."

For a moment, Marianne was stunned, not believing what she had heard. Married—to Monte! Her ambition came true... Monte Thurston's wife would have the homage of all Centerville. She would have a big house on the boulevard and lots of servants. Money! Power! Prestige!

Then, suddenly, she realized that, a few months ago, she would have thought only of Monte and not of what she would have as his wife. It came to her, poignantly, that she had lost something in the last few months. Something precious.

Chrysler Chief Makes Important Announcement

K. T. Keller, president of Chrysler Corporation, announces that Fluid Drive will be available on all 1941 Chrysler cars and also on models of the Dodge and DeSoto lines. This feature introduced two years ago, has heretofore been available only on Chrysler eights. It will be optional equipment on the lower-priced Chryslers and on the Dodge and DeSoto cars, and standard on Chrysler eights.

FLUID DRIVE AVAILABLE ON DODGE, DE SOTO, CHRYSLER FOR '41

K. T. Keller, president of Chrysler Corporation, announced today that "Fluid Drive" introduced to the public by the Corporation in 1938, and heretofore available only on the Chrysler higher priced cars, will be optional equipment on the new 1941 Dodge, De Soto and lower priced Chrysler passenger cars.

"Two full model-years of very successful experience on our higher priced cars have shown us the public will welcome the extension of fluid drive to our less expensive models," Mr. Keller said. "We are very happy to be able to make this important engineering development available to a much larger number of motorists. We are confident of an enthusiastic public acceptance in this wider group and we are assured that our dealer body will welcome this added sales opportunity."

"Many thousands of motorists, driving many millions of miles, have already attested the fundamental merits of fluid drive. Their experience has confirmed our original conviction that it is the most modern and practicable method of power transmission. Extensive laboratory and road tests had proved this to the complete satisfaction of our own engineering department long before we offered it to the public in our most expensive custom line."

"THE GREEN PEA," writes a horticulturist, "is sensitive." That must be right for we've often noticed how peas, when exposed on a knife, tremble and then dive off to hide in the eater's lap.

A new type of paper can be written on though it is immersed in water. Now deep sea divers can keep up with their correspondence.

War news becomes more confusing. Now the Italians claim to have dispersed the British fleet which the Germans said they sank long ago.

A mid-westerner announces he has been eating onions for 65 years in order to attain longevity. We wouldn't know about that but we're willing to bet he has attained exclusiveness.

The small boy of today gets spanked, too, just like his dad did—but for swiping grandma's cigarettes.

What became of the dope who thought it fun to rock a canoe? Oh, says Grandpappy Jenkins, he now has a son who thinks it cute to rocket the family car.

The trouble with us, roars a politician in a radio speech, is that we are asleep. Sure we are—otherwise we'd have to listen to him.

Italy and Britain Battle for Suez Life Line

What may prove one of the decisive campaigns of the war, the Battle for the Suez Canal, is on. Nearly 250,000 Fascist troops have been hurled into the drive for control of Britain's life line to India and the Far East. London claims victory in the first phase of desert warfare along the Libyan-Egyptian frontier, but warns that "some Italian successes" must be expected. Arrows indicate drives launched by Italy's legions.

to encouraging private enterprise.

Perhaps we're old-fashioned, but we believe the way to salvation is right here in the United States of America. As time goes on, whether we are to help ourselves or help the world at large, we can best do the job by building a thoroughly sound internal strength. If we can unite to make our own country strong and re-establish unity of purpose on the part of all groups to that end, we shall then be in much better position to expand and develop foreign commerce, when it again becomes possible to do so.

ALASKA'S COAST DEFENSE GUN SERVES AS FLOWER POT

SAN FRANCISCO, (U)—The entire Alaskan defense machine could be paralyzed by three men in a fishing boat within an hour, Donald McDonald, Alaska high commission engineer, said.

The 700 United States army men charged with defending the population of 80,000 Indians and whites scattered over 580,000 square miles, have exactly one piece of artillery.

It was left in Seward, where it now stands in a park, by the Russians when they left after Alaska's purchase in 1872. The muzzle serves as a flower pot.

Incendiarism Scouted In S. F. Fair Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, (U)—Fire department and Golden Gate International Exposition officials reported themselves baffled in their search for the cause of the $500,000 fire which destroyed the beautiful California state building on Treasure Island Saturday.

Charles Brennan, San Francisco fire chief, ruled out any question of incendiarism.

County Soapstone Helped Nicaragua Canal Survey

In the minerals exhibits at the county fair, the Pacific Minerals Co., Ltd., exhibited soapstone for the first time since the inception of the fair. For the past twelve years this company has been operating a mine and shipping crude soapstone. The uses of soapstone are many and varied. The principal consumers are roofing manufacturers, who use soapstone as a parting agent and also as a filler in manufacturing composition roofing. Insecticide spray manufacturers are next in consumption. The soapstone is used as a carrying agent for strong chemicals used in the manufacture of the insecticides. Paint and rubber goods manufacturers are all consumers of this commodity. It is a great distance from El Dorado county to Nicaragua, yet considerable tonnage from this mine was used by the United States government during the survey of the Nicaragua Canal. The soapstone, mixed with paris green, was distributed over the swamps from an airplane by means of a venturi tube to kill mosquitoes and other insects. The soapstone mine is located adjacent to the Southern Pacific Railroad, in the southwestern part of the county, between Shingle Springs and Latrobe. The soapstone is mined from drifts driven into the surrounding hills and trammed directly to a storage bin located on the company's own spur track. From the bin it is loaded into freight cars by gravity and shipped to industrial centers, where it enters into its sphere of utility in this modern world.

Guardsmen Complete 3-Week Training

SACRAMENTO, (U)—Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt said today mobilization of the California National Guard for extended training probably will be delayed after October 1, the original date planned by the war department, because of congressional delay in passing both the national guard training and conscription bills.

Mittelstaedt said the performance of the California guardsmen in the army maneuvers just completed in Washington State was so outstanding he believes that with proper equipment the troops could be prepared for combat duty with three or four months of intensive training.

State Ready To Print Forms For Draft

SACRAMENTO, (U)—The state printing plant is prepared to start immediately on the printing of more than 2,000,000 forms needed to start the state's participation in the proposed conscription act, State Printer George H. Moore reported. There will be 40 different forms and 2,097,570 copies will be required, he revealed. Regular work will be put aside and the plant will work on a 24-hour basis, seven days a week until the huge printing order is completed.

Household Hint

Daily dusting goes far in the care of your furniture. Paper dusters are very convenient as they may be discarded after they are used. When using the vacuum cleaner, it is a simple matter to get out the upholstery tool and dust the upholstery of the furniture. Now and then, as they need it, table and other wood surfaces should be polished. First be sure the surface is clean, then apply the polish very sparingly and evenly; let it dry and polish to a soft gloss. When it comes to white spots or rings on furniture, prevention is easy but cure is difficult. Always use coasters under glasses on bare tables and wipe up drops of water or other beverages at once. Protect the dining room table from hot-dish marks by placing an asbestos mat under the linen directly beneath hot dishes—Katharine Fisher in Good Housekeeping.

Household Hint

In preparing an ice-bag, better results can be obtained with less trouble by filling the bag with a mixture of equal parts of glycerine and water and placing it in the freezing chamber of your refrigerator for an hour. The bag is said by users not only to feel colder when applied, but will also stay that way longer than when filled with ice.

The LETTER BOX

Editor, The Placerville Republican:

Since there recently was published a letter disparaging some of the missionary activities of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, it may be proper to state a few points relative to their work.

This church conducted 246 Welfare projects in California during 1939, and all of this work was carried forward along constructive, character-building lines. Material assistance was given to 307,820 needy persons in this state last year.

In the whole of the United States this church has given within approximately one year, 3,451,961 garments to those in need. Members of the church have freely given 4,523,329 hours of volunteer relief service. In its dispensaries, sanatoriums and clinics they have given aid to more than half a million of the sick, and to a large proportion of these sufferers there was no charge, or merely a nominal fee.

Outside of our country this church is conducting work in 387 countries or islands, employing 766 languages or dialects. In every locality the aim is to make the work self-supporting. But it is still necessary to supplement the local funds in many of the dark corners of the earth.

The world over our members support the church and its ministers by paying a voluntary tithe (10 per cent) of their income. Aside from this they contribute freely to these other welfare activities and to mission funds. Thus it is that our church members give approximately 15 per cent of the entire income for the support of the church and to help those in need outside of the church. Of course this is far above the average of charitable giving, and once a year our members ask their friends and neighbors for one offering to enable our workers to reach out a little farther in this humanitarian work. If any person wishes his donation to be used locally exclusively, then it is set aside for that purpose.

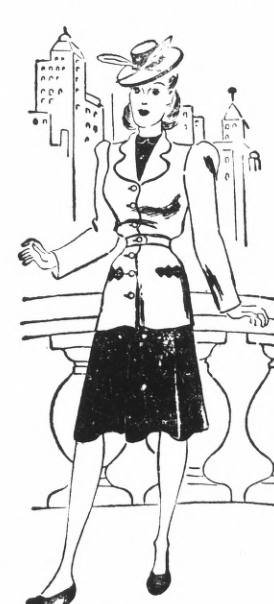

The assistance of our many friends in helping us to alleviate a little of the suffering in this needy world, and also to bring the offer of the Gospel of God's redeeming grace within the reach of some of those who are still in spiritual darkness and bondage is greatly appreciated. We heartily thank you!

Very sincerely yours,

H. C. OLMSTEAD,

Church Pastor.

Velvet and Wool

By VERA WINSTON

THE partnership between wool and velvet or velveteen seems to be lasting. We notice a combination of these fabrics in some of the newest advance autumn models.

See for yourself how smart it is in this useful and trim day ensemble. The frock is of black velveteen with short sleeves and a high, round neck. Buttons to the waist in back. Two slit pockets with embroidered pointed borders are placed high on the chest in front. The same pocket detail is repeated in the long tunic jacket, which is of green woolen.

The jacket has classic revers and self buttons all the way down the front.

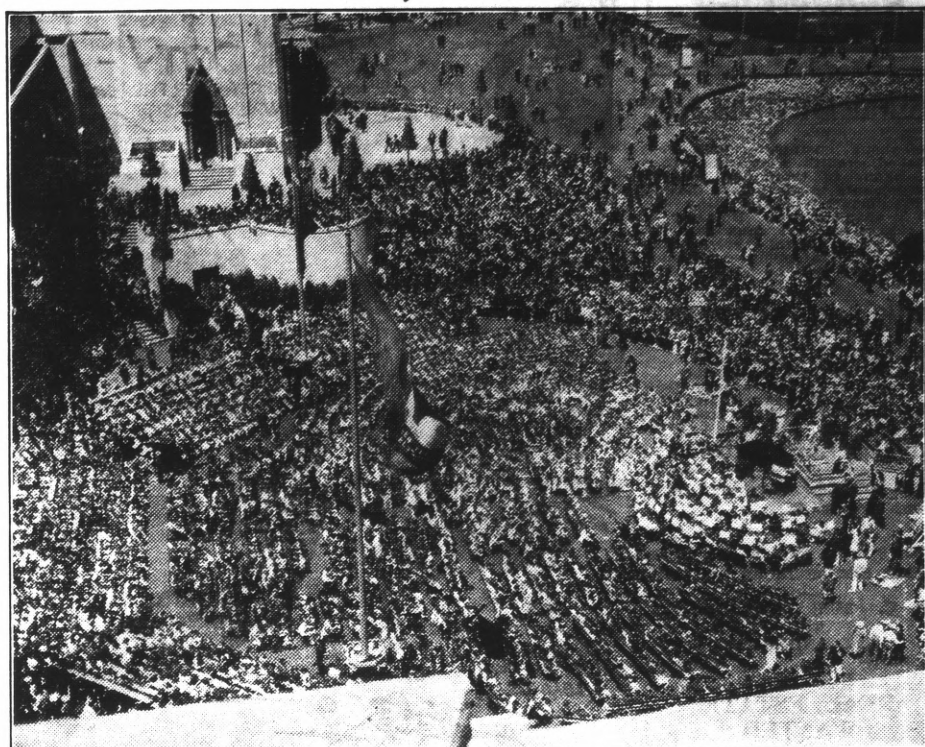

Household Hints

You can save yourself the trouble of ironing curtains if you hang them on the rods while they're wet. Slip curtain rods in the bottom hems as a weight, and they'll dry straight.

Gardening and cleaning are hard on the hands, so equip yourself with extra rubber gloves and wear them every time you do this kind of work. Rub some cold cream under your nails before starting work—you will be delighted how quickly you can clean your nails after a good soap and water bath.

There is a growing demand for cattle and sheep ranches in the north coast counties.

Part of a 100,000 Crowd at Fair

Here's a picture of a part of the nearly 100,000 persons who jammed Treasure Island to participate in multiple ceremonies in Temple Compound. The crowds are ever increasing as the Fair season nears its close. In the foreground is the flag of the New York Fair which flies beside that of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

"POP ALWAYS PAYS," SIDE-SPLITTING FAMILY COMEDY TOPS EMPIRE PROGRAM TUESDAY WITH LEON ERROL, DENNIS O'KEEFE

Dealing with the devious methods employed by a harassed father and his prospective son-in-law to raise separate sums of money, RKO Radio's "Pop Always Pays" comes to the Empire screen for Tuesday only with the advance reputation of being one of the year's funniest pictures.

Leon Errol, Dennis O'Keefe, Adele Pearce and Walter Catlett are featured in the new offering, with the wedding plans of O'Keefe and Miss Pearce as the cause of all the difficulty. Errol, playing the role of the girl's cantankerous father, decides that O'Keefe is a spendthrift and forbids the marriage until such time as the young man can display a savings account of a thousand dollars.

As a big-hearted gesture on which he has no idea he will ever have to make good, Errol offers to give the young couple a thousand to match theirs, if and when they save it. Immediately the boy, the girl and the girl's mother set to work to build up a savings account by hook or crook—chiefly the latter. And as the hoard approaches the thousand-dollar mark Errol gets panicky, for he can't raise the promised funds.

What happens from that point on makes for the hilarious complications of the plot and its whirlwind finish, in which Errol nearly goes to prison for his desperate attempts to get his thousand dollars together. The result is said to be an unusually entertaining picture. "Hot Steel," which stars Richard Arlen and Andy Devine is the second picture on the Tuesday program.

WINNING CUB

By Jack Sords

SWIM TOURNEY TONIGHT

What will be, perhaps, the last swimming tournament of the season at the city plunge will be held at seven o'clock tonight.

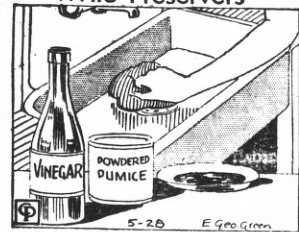

The event has been arranged by "Scout" Thompson, who has been in charge of the plunge for the city during the summer season, and who reports a large number of entries from among the younger swimmers.

"We could stand some more entries in the unlimited group," said Thompson, "and any who wish to enter at a late hour will be welcome."

Thompson said that specialties in fancy diving and some clown acts have been prepared at feature events of the tournament program.

Ribbons will be awarded winners in the various events; tonight at seven o'clock at the municipal plunge.

Baked Eggs in Toast Rings

BAKED Eggs in Toast Rings are a pleasant variation of America's favorite breakfast, bacon and eggs. Easy to make, they consist of eggs dropped into bread-cups and baked in muffin pans.

Cut rounds of bread with a scalloped or plain round cookie cutter. Remove the center portions of half of the rounds, so that cup-like containers to hold the eggs may be formed. A small biscuit cutter is good for removing the centers neatly.

Bread rounds may be cut and buttered the night before, so that in the morning only a second is needed for breaking the eggs into the pans, adding milk, and putting the muffin pans into the oven. Bake the eggs while the coffee brews and the bacon cooks.

Wholesome, energy-yielding, Baked Eggs in Toast Rings are a treat for children at lunch time, and they add a festive note to a simple supper.

Baked Eggs in Toast Rings
12 slices bread
Butter
6 eggs
6 tablespoons milk

With a scalloped cookie cutter cut rounds of bread from bread slices. Use a smaller cutter to remove center portion from 6 of the slices. Brush each slice with melted butter. Place plain rounds of bread in bottoms of muffin pans and top with a ring of bread. Break egg in center of each ring and add 1 tablespoon milk to each. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with broiled bacon. Yield: 6 servings.

Light Vote In Placerville

the re-election campaign of veteran United States Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, the major issue.

Local legislative contests assumed above-normal importance because of the "purge" campaign of democratic governor, Culbert Olson, seeking to rid the state legislature of unfriendly lawmakers.

Each of California's 19 incumbent congressmen sought renomination. Thirteen candidates scrambled for the vacancy left by the death of the late Thomas Eaton of Long Beach.

Polls are open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., except in San Francisco, where the hours are from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Also on Wednesday, Dean Wyman Olson, of Placer Junior College, will be at the high school for conferences with prospective pupils of the Auburn institution from this county. Dean Olson will be at the high school from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The registration of high school pupils will continue through Thursday and Friday, from nine o'clock until 4 o'clock. Thursday evening, opening at seven o'clock, there will be a special two-hour registration period for pupils who are now employed, and who may register in the evening so that they will not lose time from such employment as they may have during the summer.

Principal B. E. Larson met with the faculty Tuesday at the school to outline the registration details and discuss the school program for the year.

Miss Mary Adams, of the Native Sons' and Native Daughters' Central Committee on Homeless Children, was a visitor in the county on Monday, combining business with the opportunity to visit friends.

Albert Lott Hamlin, of Los Angeles, was here to spend the County Fair weekend with his son, Herbert Hamlin. The elder Mr. Hamlin was for many years active in political affairs in Salt Lake City.
